"Tom" Reed was asked the other day whether he had ever been invited to a dinner, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, without also being asked to speak. "Never" was his reply.

The storm center of Democratic politics has shifted from Washington and New York to Albany. Possibly it isn't going to be much of a storm, but for Mr. Cleveland and his Mugwump followers are halfway smart they will take their mackintoshes and cork soles with them.

Inasmuch as they have had a big riot in the new Colorado gold fields, in which two men were killed and nearly a hundred wounded, the town of Dolores would seem to be fully entitled to a place on the map and to the attention of fortune seeking tourists. It looks as though there might be a fine business for a shooting gallery in that town.

New Mexico is entitled to statehood, and there is no good reason why it should not be admitted. The population is 175,000, while Montana, Idaho and Wyoming had respectively 30,000, 54,000 and 60,000 population at the time of their admission to the Union. The assessed valuation in the territory is $15,500,000. The people of New Mexico are intelligent and would make good citizens.

Some of the Kansas politicians who fear Mrs. Lease's strength in the Senatorial contest are trying to get rid of her by urging her to accept a place on the State Board of Charities. It is entirely improbable, however, that Mrs. Lease will consent to be treated as an object of charity of that sort. She is much more likely to take the ground that if she is fit to serve the state as a member of its Board of Charities, she is also fit to serve it in the Senate.

Senator Carlisle is too poor a man to go into the Cabinet. He prefers a place on the Supreme Bench, where the pay is the same, the honors equal and the expenses small.

The pay of a Cabinet officer, $8,000, pays about one-third the expenses of the incumbent. When Senator Lamar, who had just married a young wife, was appointed Secretary of the Interior by Mr. Cleveland his bride spent a week house hunting, and finally found what seemed to be a suitable residence for a Cabinet officer. She drove to the Senate, of which Mr. Lamar was still a member, to tell her husband the news of her discovery. His first question was: "What is the rent, dear?"

"Seventy-five hundred a year." The Senator lapsed into deep thought and the young wife said, rather nervously: "Do you think it extravagant?" "It is not that," returned Lamar, slowly, "it was wondering what I should do with the other $500 of my salary."

A STREET CAR got dry on Market street last evening, jumped the track and went into George Deiner's saloon to get a drink of his ten-year-old, but George doesn't sell to minors, and the car, after considerable trouble, was put back on the track.

DAILY MAYSVILLE LEDGER

FIRST YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 1893.

ONE CENT.

A PERILOUS VOYAGE.

A Maysville man, while on his way to reach his bride.

William F. Power will never forget his wedding day. While "Love laughs at locksmiths," it is recorded rarely that the little slip overcomes the very elements themselves. But such was the case yesterday. Mr. Power was due in Aberdeen at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, the hour set for his marriage to Miss Ella Marvin, one of the most lovable and accomplished young ladies of our neighboring village.

At 11 o'clock he had sailed in his bachelor business partner, Collins Blatterman, and started for the home of his bride. The movements of the ice during the preceding hours had rendered navigation not only tedious but extremely perilous. Exulting the services of a couple of good shifts and nervy crews, however, the voyage began, and its novelty was not long in attracting a large crowd on either bank of the river. It goes without saying that every one wished the daring voyagers a safe if not a pleasant trip. That it was not a speedy one, is evidenced by the fact that it was approaching the wedding hour when Mr. Power stepped on the Ohio shore.

Thankful that it was no worse, he soon sought the presence of the wedding party, which had been anxiously awaiting the result of the contest with the ice king, in which Love was finally victorious.

Mr. Power is of the well-known firm of Blatterman & Power of this city, and his bride a daughter of Mrs. William Marvin.

The Ledger congratulates Mr. Power on the successful termination of his perilous voyage and trusts that he and his bride may find pleasant sailing on the matrimonial sea.

THERE is nothing small about the new Columbian postage stamps. One of them stuck on a No. 6 white envelope looks somewhat like a newspaper advertisement pasted on a white washed fence.

TWO young men by the names of B. Mullins and John Evans were arrested at Livingston the other night for stealing. They broke the seal of a car and carried away a barrel of whiskey, a lot of cigars, tobacco, &c., but were caught by the night watchman while tapping the barrel.

Not From a Financial Standpoint.

I do not recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy from a financial standpoint, for we have others in stock on which we make a larger profit," says A. Maggini, a prominent druggist of Bradford, Pa., "but because many of our customers have spoken of it in the highest praise. We are men of this sort of thing that a woman would not be expected to do. She claims iron on her bones."

THE SONS OF VETERANS.

Public Installation of Officers of M. C. Hutchins Camp Last Night.

Grand Army Hall presented a lively scene last night, where there was a large audience of ladies and gentlemen—members of the W. R. C. G. A. R. S. of V. and their friends—to witness a public installation of the newly elected officers of M. C. Hutchins Camp.

There was excellent string music and a choir sang several patriotic airs. Previous to the installation ceremonies a few remarks were made by Thomas A. Davis. The new officers of the Camp are: Captain—Walter Reed. First Lieutenant—W. H. Bloom. Second Lieutenant—John F. Farnier. Chaplain—Robert Pagnon.

At the close of these ceremonies W. R. Bell, Commander of the Kentucky Division, made an appropriate address, concluding by presenting, on behalf of the Camp, a handsome badge to J. L. Todd, the retiring Captain.

Captain Todd was overcome with surprise, but feelingly thanked the members for this evidence of regard and good fellowship.

Then there was a diversion in the exercises in which all took an active part—a bout of ice cream and cake. After this Captain M. C. Hutchins, in whose honor the Camp is named, delivered an eloquent address, thus concluding a very enjoyable entertainment.

Saturday evening there will be a public installation of officers of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., to which the S. of V. are cordially invited.

MANY KILLED

All the Bloody Work of Lynchers Outdone.

North Carolina Citizens Kill Each Other Like Fleas.

A Massed Band of Five Hundred Men Attempt to Lynch a Negro at a Public Execution in the Sheriff's House—Thirty-five Dead and Wounded.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Tuesday night a massed mob of five hundred men entered the jail at Bakersville, N. C., and took Calvin Snipes, who had murdered Isaac Osborne, a prominent citizen of Mitchell county, to a dense forest, about half a mile away, and lynched him.

Eleven of the sheriff's posse were killed in their efforts to defend the prisoner. About twenty-five of the mob were killed, and among the slain were some of the most prominent men in the county were the unfortunate.

The facts which led to the terrible lynchings are as follows: Aaron Wiseman and Calvin Snipes were partners in an illicit distillery in Mitchell county, N. C., and Sheriff Thomas Osborne and Isaac Osborne, two brothers, where the distillery was situated. William Osborne reported the distillery to the official in Bakersville, and helped them to destroy it. Wiseman and Snipes suspected Isaac Osborne as the reporter.

On the night of August 27, 1903, Snipes and Wiseman, armed with Winchester rifles, went to the house of Isaac Osborne and called him up. Mr. Osborne came to the door, and when the rifle opened fire, almost riddling him with bullets. Wiseman and Snipes were arrested, but sufficient evidence could not be obtained against Wiseman and he was released. Snipes was bound over to the superior court on purely technical grounds, and he remained in jail, and after being confined about two weeks confessed to the killing in the manner above related.

The last attack on Mitchell county jail was made at 4 o'clock Tuesday night. The structure is a frame building and little calculated to withstand an assault. But Sheriff Thomas Osborne, who had been in the jail, and who had been determined men, who declared they would see the law upheld or die. The attack was expected at 4 o'clock by the mountaineers of Mitchell, McDowell and Yancy counties were assembling in the little hamlet of Bakersville, while the population of five hundred was about doubled. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a formal demand was made upon Sheriff Osborne to deliver up the mob. To this the sheriff responded: "We will die first."

Then they knew that they could be no more. The little county split into three parts, one remaining in the jail, and the other two occupying the sheriff's house and the jail building. Winchester rifles were loaded, and the wait for the final began. The men were not long in suspense. The fight would be brief, and the result was it was useless for the mob to wait for darkness. About sundown the first attack was made. Then the sheriff's men marched up the road, and then the howl broke on a run for the jail. The garbion was ready for them. "Halt," they cried, and the mob was arrested. From Sheriff Osborne's mouth. No attention was paid to the warning.

"Fire," rang out the order, and several rifles pointed at the mob, and a flanking hail of bullets into the determined lynchmen. They wavered a moment as a score of them went down, and with the shrieks of retreat they closed up their ranks and rushed forward again under the leadership of the gigantic mountaineer, who urged them forward with the words: "Forward, boys! The rifles of the besieged rang out this time they were answered by a shower of fire from the mob, and the air was deadly.

Every window on the exposed side of the building occupied by the defenders was shot out, and the mob was wounded or killed. Their bodies hampered the deputies, who were unarmed, and only a few could close up to the windows and return the fire. The mob was upon them. There was a short struggle. A few revolver shots, one hundred chanted rifles, and all was over. Their deputies, who had been shot, were placed around their necks. About thirty others were wounded, some being gallant Sheriff Moorman, who was shot twice in the chest and three times through the abdomen.

Nothing definite is known of the wounded, as Bakersville is miles away from a telegraph station, and the news brought to this point comes by carriers. Since the first news was received four more of the sheriff's posse reported dead and five more of the mob.

FIEMEN HURT

A Chicago Fire Followed by Three Explosions.

Natural Gas Wrecks the Lower Portion of a Printing House.

Two Firemen Fatally Injured and Sixteen Others Seriously Injured Employees of the firm and an Employee of the firm and an Employee of the firm.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Shortly before 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a terrific explosion of natural gas wrecked the lower part of the great printing establishment of Donohoe, Hennebry, and Dearborn street. The accident occurred during the progress of a small fire, and over a score of firemen, including Chief Swine, of the fire department, and several laborers, were seriously injured. Two men are dying and others are seriously burned that they may not recover.

The explosion was in the plate vault, which is located immediately below the sidewalk, which is formed of heavy iron frames covered with glass and iron. During the early part of the afternoon three employees of the Natural Gas Co. were at work in the vault. As a precaution the doors of the vault were closed. Shortly before 1 o'clock, Foreman Robert Granger, of the fire department, and several other men were in the vicinity of the brick wall which extended between the press room and the vault.

Within a few moments members of the fire insurance patrol and hose engine companies were on the spot, headed by Chief Swine. The squad of firemen rushed to the basement and had no sooner reached the vault door than a second and more powerful explosion followed. The men were hurled to the floor or across the room against the wall on the opposite side. Several of the men were rendered unconscious and the flames had ignited their clothing, roasted their hands and faces in a horrible manner. Other firemen were also behind the door, and for a few minutes the fire was left to take care of itself, while the injured men were rescued.

Protest Against the Spencer Bill and Conclude Labor in Competition With Free Labor.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 5.—By a rising vote of 10 to 9, the House of Representatives today passed the Spencer bill, which gives to corporations a perpetual foothold in the streets, and calling upon all the legislature to vote against it. Secretary Callaway's report recommends the repeal of the bill.

Fisher, of Cincinnati, offered a resolution asking the abolition of the manufacture in the state prison of goods sold in competition with honest labor products. The legislative committee reported that 45 labor bills were introduced last winter—29 passed and 29 not pending.

The whole cost of lobbying these bills was $810.70. Fisher, of Cincinnati, on behalf of his delegation, asked for a law to prevent installment houses robbing their patrons. Peter Witt, of Cleveland, announced that Representatives from Ohio would introduce a bill to repeal the law allowing corporations to insure against loss by casualty.

The House is declared against the non-union breweries, the Reformed Church Publication House, and Schneller & Turcotte, store and binders, of Cleveland, who are demanding the abolition of the contract system of public work, who was adopted.

The House's report showed that the salaries and expenditures had balanced—$473. It was resolved to let the Union foundry, workers of Cleveland, to demand the abolition of the contract system of public work, who was adopted.
